Together We Will Explore How 21st Century Literacies relate to Global Citizenship

"The basis of our governments being the opinion of the people, the very first object should be to keep that right; and were it left to me to decide whether we should have a government without newspapers, or newspapers without a government, I should not hesitate a moment to prefer the latter."--Thomas Jefferson

As our nation was being formed, one idea that was very important to our founders was to establish the freedom for its citizens to be allowed to voice their own opinions without fear of tyranny from the government. This was key in order to create a society that felt fair for all of its citizens. By allowing and encouraging all members of a society to have a voice and possessing the right to be heard, it is possible to engage in dialogues that serve everyone. But how do we access the information being shared that we can respond to? How do we become and stay informed? In his quote, Thomas Jefferson praises the role that newspapers play in the part of allowing its citizens to express their opinions. Currently, there are a myriad of ways that we can get information, but how do we judge if it's good information?

Your years in college are years of exploration and discovery. Together we will establish a daily pattern of reading The New York Times, along with other texts and modalities, to explore the ways that we as global citizens 'join in the conversation' through reading and writing, to observe where in our communities do we experience or witness civic engagement, and determine whether (or not) the current platforms available serve to effectively engage users of those platforms and allow for civil discourse.

SJSU studies include an emphasis on diversity. I chose The New York Times as the main text for our reading precisely because you will find and engage in these pages a full range of voices in our democratic conversation on global issues.

What You Will Learn in Stretch English I and II

The General Education guidelines for instructors outline five broad learning outcomes for all courses that satisfy Area A2. This course is designed to ensure that you meet these outcomes.

GE Learning Outcomes (GELO)

Upon successful completion of this course, students will be able to:

- 1. demonstrate the ability to read actively and rhetorically
- 2. demonstrate the ability to perform the essential steps in the writing process (prewriting, organizing, composing, revising, and editing) and demonstrate an awareness of said performance
- 3. articulate an awareness of and write according to the rhetorical features of texts, such as purpose, audience, context, and rhetorical appeals
- 4. demonstrate the ability to integrate their ideas and those of others by explaining, analyzing, developing, and criticizing ideas effectively in several genres
- 5. demonstrate college-level language use, clarity, and grammatical proficiency in writing

Through a variety of writing assignments and projects in this yearlong course, you will continuously practice all phases of the writing process: prewriting, organizing, writing, revising, and editing that will allow you to meet the course's GELOs.

For more information on the Stretch Curriculum deigned to meet these learning outcomes, see the Stretch English Program Syllabus: http://www.sjsu.edu/english/ENGLgreensheets/2016ENGLfall/Stretch%20Program%20Syllabus.pdf.

 Table 1: Summary of Writing Assignments for Stretch English I and II.

Here's an Overview of the Work that You'll Do

This Course is a Shared Curriculum

Table 1 outlines the major writing assignments for all Stretch English courses. The fall writing assignments include: A benchmark essay and 2 critical reading and reflection essays, written in class; a personal essay; an essay for a public forum; a self-reflection essay (written in class). The spring writing assignments include: An interview project, a profile essay, a critical/reflection essay (written in class), an ethnographic project, a critical essay, and a self-reflection essay.

Midyear and Final Year-End Self-Reflection and Portfolio Review At the end of each term you will submit a portfolio for Stretch instructors to review. These portfolios will provide you with an assessment of your writing and will be reviewed by two members of the Stretch faculty; me and one of my colleagues. In your reflection, you will examine your progress in these five course learning objectives:

- Read to learn;
- Read to write;
- Write with an increased awareness of the process;
- Read and write with an increased awareness of the language that you use; and
- Reflect on and assess your own writing, process, and product.

Our Daily Learning Activities

The schedule of reading and writing assignments at the end of this syllabus breaks down the daily activities you will do both in and out of the class. Come every day prepared to do writing and reading – to explore ideas, share research, analyze source materials, critique samples, and workshop drafts. Sometimes I will ask you to bring your laptop to class. If you do not have one available, laptops and tablets are available to be checked out in the library.

The Time You Will Spend on This Work

Faculty at SJSU design a course to help you achieve the learning goals that define its role in your progress to earn a degree. In a 3-unit course like this one, faculty expect that students will spend a minimum of forty-five hours for each unit of credit (normally three hours per unit per week). This time includes preparing for class, participating in course activities, completing assignments, and so on. More details about student workload can be found in University Policy S12-3 at http://www.sjsu.edu/senate/docs/S12-3.pdf.

While all students will complete these same assignments, the course design does not and cannot account for individual needs of each student. There may be added work you need to do. You may need extra hours for tutoring; you may take longer to read texts so that you can look up words you find unfamiliar; you may need more time for editing.

How Your Work Will Be Assessed and Graded in This Course

Below you'll find information on how you will be graded and assessed in our class, as well as University Policies regarding grading in Stretch English:

How Your Work Will Be Assessed and Graded

Scoring Guide: For each assignment, you will be given a detailed guide or rubric outlining how you will be evaluated and scored. Typically, the assignment will be reviewed both as a process and as an end product (show your work!). I will provide detailed notes for your draft essays both in the essay and on the rubric.

Cover Sheet: For each assignment that you turn in for evaluation, you will include a cover sheet containing a reflection of what you have learned with this assignment as a whole. Practicing this self-reflection will help you prepare to write the mid-year and final self-reflection essays.

Breakdown for Grading of Each Component of your Final Grade is as Follows:

Fall 2017: Grades in the fall are based on measured progress toward proficiency in the learning objectives outlined above. To earn credit in the course, you will need to have completed all of the assigned work, and you will need to demonstrate measurable progress in at least 3 out of 4 of the CLO categories to earn credit in English 1AF.

Word Count for Fall/Spring: 9550 (5150 finished writing)

How Grades are Calculated: Final grades for Stretch English are based on the work that you produce in both semesters. At the end of the fall semester, you'll be awarded with a C/NC grade, and at the end of the spring semester, you'll be awarded a letter grade where out of 100 points, 90-100 points earns an A, 80-89 points earns a B, 70-79 points earns a C, 60-69 earns a D, and below 60 total points earns an F letter grade.

How to Be Successful in our Class

Attend Every Class. Come to class on time, practice SLANT behavior (Sit-up, Lean-in, Ask questions, Nod your head to show that you are listening, Talk with you teacher), and stay for the duration. No amount of solitary make-up work can replace missed collaboration in the classroom. Workshop days are very difficult days to miss and cannot be fully made-up. If you miss a workshop day or come unprepared (missing a hard copy of your draft) you may receive partial credit by scheduling a visit outside of class time to the Writing Center and obtain a proof sheet from your tutor of your visit along with the draft that was reviewed.

Visit me During my Office Hours. These hours are for your benefit and in college there is an expectation that you, as a student, will take responsibility for your own educational experience. I do bring in baked goods.

Turn in All Work On Time. As a rule, without prior communication via face-to-face discussion or email, deadlines must be honored and I will not accept late work. With prior communication so that alternatives can be put into place, I will accept late work accompanied with proper documentation (doctor's note, mechanic's bill, athletic commitment, etc.) and the work must be turned in by the newly assigned due date; there are no exceptions to this. These policies are in place to be fair to your classmates who also have demanding schedules, and as Stretch is a sequenced step-by-step, collaborative approach to developing your writing, missing an original due date is very cumbersome to everyone in the class.

Share Your Work and Your Opinion. We will be sharing our work in class and online, as part of a collective inquiry into reading and writing. Your work and your classmates' work represent models of various approaches to thinking and writing. You can earn participation points by completing in-class workshop activities and by posting to the Discussion board assignments. Participation is worth a total of 15% of your entire grade, so participating fully is not only beneficial to your writing and to the collective community in our classroom, but also beneficial for your overall grade!

Follow Standards of Good Classroom Etiquette. Be courteous to one another and be respectful of all of the opinions shared in our classroom and in our shared online discussions. We are a diverse group and can learn so much more from each other when we feel comfortable enough in our community to share. Class is best when we are all participating in the same conversation, together. We will at times be using internet-ready devices in the classroom; please make the wise choice to stay on task at these times and ignore the urge to check your social media, unless asked to do so by me for the sake of the discussion at hand. Please remove earbuds in our classroom. If you are going to eat during class, make it a light snack that is small and not smelly. While I love curry and crunchy foods, such items can be distracting to others. Many classrooms do not allow any food or drink, so please be mindful about your nutritional needs before you come to class (on time!). Recording in our classroom is never allowed without the express consent of all. If you wish to record something, please let me know beforehand so that I can obtain permission from the class.

Where Can I Find Information about University Policies?

The Office of Graduate and Undergraduate Programs (GUP) maintains university-wide policy information relevant to all courses, such as academic integrity, accommodations, etc. You may find all syllabus-related University Policies and resources information listed on GUP's Syllabus Information web page at http://www.sjsu.edu/gup/syllabusinfo/

Where Can I Find Information about Earning A2 Credit and Clearing Remediation?

The Stretch program syllabus is located in our Canvas files and on the Department website: http://www.sjsu.edu/english/ENGLgreensheets/2016ENGLfall/Stretch%20Program%20Syllabus.pdf. In that syllabus you will find information about how, in Stretch I and II, you can earn A2 credit and, if you need to, clear your remediation in English.

Where to Find Course Assignments and Materials.

Course materials such as syllabus, handouts, assignment sheets, and some readings can be found on the Canvas learning management system course website. You are responsible to check the messaging system through MySJSU to learn of any updates to our schedule.

Schedule of Reading & Writing in Stretch English for Fall 2017 & Spring 2018

The schedule below is intended to provide us all an overview of the work in this class. I based this projected schedule on the shared curriculum and for what has worked for me in the past, but that may be different this year. We will see as we go. While I expect the general framework of assignment due dates to stay the same, the details of the daily schedule will be adjusted in Canvas as we work together this year to develop your writing. I will publish an updated schedule with each new writing assignment sheet. All updates will also be on our Canvas homepage, which I will revise on a daily basis as needed.

Winter Recess: 12/21-1/23

Your Recess Assignment: Over the winter break, secure an interviewee and possibly conduct your investigative interview in the field. If you do not do this during the break, then schedule your interview for the first week of Spring semester. Make an appointment so that you are prepared when the semester starts.

Your January Reading and Interview Assignments: Over January you will be reading Naomi Wolf's book Give Me Liberty. On a weekly basis you will post comments to the Canvas Discussion Board in response to this reading. You may want to begin reading over break to give yourself extra time.

Conferences: during the first three weeks of the semester I will hold conferences to discuss your midyear self-reflection and portfolio. Conferences will be held in my office, FO 221.
