Course Description and Requisites

Approaching the graphic novel as a form of popular literature, students examine the narrative and textual aspects of the form including the function of the text, its integration with the graphics, and formal aspects of narrative such as plot, character, theme, and symbol.

GE Area(s): C2. Humanities

Letter Graded

Classroom Protocols

You need to participate, complete the required module activities on time, and be courteous to your peers and to your teacher.

Section Specific Course Description

Due to three major superhero “crazes”—one occurring during the late thirties/early forties, one occurring during the sixties, and one occurring now—U.S. comics have become particularly associated with superheroes. For our class, however, we shall attempt to develop a wider view of the field, exploring U.S. comics as a medium rich in a wide variety of genres and forms and attracting a diverse readership. For the first half of the semester, we will trace the history of the comic book from its pulp origins to now. In the second half, we will read and analyze contemporary works. Throughout the semester, we will pay particular attention to the comic book’s long history of depicting immigrants and outsiders and the medium’s fraught relationship to notions of patriotism and citizenship.

Program Information

Welcome to this General Education course.

SJSU's General Education Program establishes a strong foundation of versatile skills, fosters curiosity about the world, promotes ethical judgment, and prepares students to engage and contribute responsibly and cooperatively in a multicultural, information-rich society. General education classes integrate areas of study and encourage progressively more complex and creative analysis, expression, and problem solving.

The General Education Program has three goals:

Goal 1: To develop students' core competencies for academic, personal, creative, and professional pursuits.

Goal 2: To enact the university's commitment to diversity, inclusion, and justice by ensuring that students have the knowledge and skills to serve and contribute to the well-being of local and global communities and the environment.

Goal 3: To offer students integrated, multidisciplinary, and innovative study in which they pose challenging questions, address complex issues, and develop cooperative and creative responses.

More information about the General Education Program Learning Outcomes (PLOs) can be found on the GE website (<https://sjsu.edu/general-education/ge-requirements/overview/learning-outcomes.php>).

Course Learning Outcomes (CLOs)

GE Area C2: Humanities

Area C Arts and Humanities courses help students to respond subjectively as well as objectively to aesthetic experiences and to develop an understanding of the integrity of both emotional and intellectual responses. C2 Humanities courses encourage students to analyze and appreciate works of philosophical, historical, literary, aesthetic, and cultural importance.

GE Area C2 Learning Outcomes

Upon successful completion of a C2 course, students should be able to:

1. analyze and understand works of philosophical and humanistic importance, including their temporal and cultural dimensions;
2. explore and articulate their own subjective aesthetic and intellectual responses to such texts;
3. analyze and assess ideas of value, meaning, and knowledge, as produced within the humanistic disciplines; and
4. research and write effective analyses of works of the human intellect and imagination

Writing Practice: Students will write a minimum of 1500 words in a language and style appropriate to the discipline.

Course Materials

Required Texts

☰ Course Requirements and Assignments

Reading

You will be assigned reading before every class, whether online or in-person. These readings are the central component of our class, and it is absolutely essential that you keep up with them.

Assignments

Three Exams: In the first half of the semester, students will complete three exams delivered through Canvas. The exams will require students to demonstrate basic comprehension of U.S. comics history and key aspects of the form. They will include essay questions, requiring in-depth analysis of specific comics and genres.

Seminar Essay: At the end of the semester, students will write an essay analyzing the thematic and formal components of one comic book, considering its place in the larger history of U.S. comics.

Short Comics: NO DRAWING ABILITY REQUIRED. One of the best ways to understand the distinct language of comics is to experiment with the comics page. So, over the course of the semester, students will complete three comic strips and a one-page narrative comic. The comics can be made in a variety of ways, using digital tools, collage, and or drawing. Technical ability is not judged in the evaluation of these comics.

Module Participation: The last crucial element of this class is simply participation. Included in class modules will be required discussion board threads and sporadic short assignments. Students will receive 100 for participation when these required module elements are completed, and 0 when they are not.

About Grades

The Department of English reaffirms its commitment to the differential grading scale as defined in the SJSU Catalog ("The Grading System"). Grades issued must represent a full range of student performance: A= excellent; B= above average; C= average; D= below average; F= failure. Courses graded according to the A, B, C, No Credit system shall follow the same pattern, except that NC shall replace D or F. In such cases, NC shall also substitute for W (or Withdrawal) because neither grade (NC or W) affects students' GPA.

A (92-100); A- (90-91); B+ (88-89); B (82-87); B- (80-81); C+ (78-79); C (70-77); C- (70-71); D+ (68-69); D (62-67); D- (60-61); F (<60)
